

Privacy Policy

Security

We maintain high security standards with regard to the data we keep about your company and naturally also with regard to the protection of your own data. We have adopted a number of internal processes that ensure that we live up to our high security standards and protect your data against access by unauthorised persons, and we always maintain a high, up-to-date level of security in our IT infrastructure.

Client Login

The only information we keep in our client login is about your client number, and in this connection, we collect no personal data about you. As a customer, you always have the opportunity to gain an insight into the data we keep about you as well as naturally the right to have such data corrected or deleted, where so permitted by the legislation.

Write to our Data Manager at gdpr@bhi.dk if we need to amend or delete the data we keep about you or if you otherwise have questions with regard to the guidelines adopted in our Privacy Policy.

GDPR

We recognise our customers' and employees' right to protection of information. We comply with the GDPR Regulation, and in this connection, we have reviewed all our processes where we process data about our customers and personal data on behalf of our employees in order to ensure and guarantee compliance with the GDPR regulation.

In connection with the above, the GDPR process has been documented in a well-reputed system. In order to continuously quality-assure data protection and compliance with all requirements in the GDPR, we have set up internal controls to continuously ensure compliance.

We have data processing agreements with the data processors we use, and we have prepared our employees for the new legislation so that they have the necessary knowledge and competence to comply with the GDPR in their day-to-day work with our customers.
